

NEW MAIL SERVICE
FOR RHINELANDERWatersmeet Train Now Carries
Pouch, Beginning Last Monday

Additional mail service has been inaugurated between Rhinelander and towns along the Watersmeet-Monico branch of the Northwestern line. The Watersmeet-Rhineland train now carries a mail pouch, beginning last Monday. Mail from stations between Watersmeet and Monico is received in this city at 11:12 a. m. daily, except Sunday, and leaves here at 12:50 m.

The value of this mail service to Rhinelander business men and public in general can readily be appreciated. Letters from Watersmeet, Eagle River, Three Lakes, Gagen and other towns on that branch can receive replies early that same afternoon. In this respect the new service almost equals the telegraph.

In the matter of parcel post mail the service cannot be equaled. For example—John Jones at Three Lakes sends an order for goods to one of the business houses here. The letter is received at 11:12 in the forenoon and Jones' order is mailed to him on the return train, leaving here at 12:50.

A few weeks ago it was rumored that the Watersmeet-Rhineland train would soon be taken off, as far as this city is concerned, and the old schedule between Watersmeet and Monico resumed. Now that the train carries mail it is generally believed that there will be no change made in the schedule.

MORE TARGETS FOR THE GERMAN GUNS

Friday morning's east bound Soo line limited carried a coach load of Italians from Minneapolis and St. Paul bound for their native land to join the army in the present war. The party numbered about forty men, some of whom have resided in this country for twenty years. It is learned that three of the number are wealthy Italian merchants of the Twin Cities and have been quite influential in inducing many of their countrymen to return home to fight. The party sails from New York Saturday. When the train passed through this city most of the men were sleeping soundly, apparently unconcerned as to the fate which awaits them when they enter into the European slaughter.

A bystander on the depot platform who glanced into the Italians' car was overheard to remark, "More targets for the German guns."

DEDICATE CHURCH AT CLEVELAND

W. C. Heyl, the pastor of the Congregational church, will go to Cleveland, Ohio, to assist in the dedication of the new church building he was instrumental in constructing during the past year. In his absence the pulpit will be occupied at both the morning and evening services by Rev. O. L. Robinson State Sunday School Secretary of the Congregational Sunday Schools. May all the members and friends of the church turn out to hear Mr. Robinson.

Sunday Oct. 3 Bible School 10:00 a. m., Morning Worship 11 o'clock, Young People's Service 6:45 p. m., Evening Worship 7:30 p. m.

PRAISES EXHIBIT

Here is what the Wisconsin Farmer said of the Oneida county exhibit at the 1915 state fair:

"Oneida county in the extreme northern part of the state had a splendid exhibit in charge of F. T. Coon, Arthur Taylor, Morris McRae, William Gilligan, E. S. Shepard and W. D. Juday. Mr. Juday is the county agricultural representative and he was particularly pleased that Oneida county won first in the agricultural department on Green Mountain potatoes. In this booth was an exhibit of corn from a field of ten acres where the corn stood ten feet high; was unhurt by the frost and promises a big yield. Dairying is coming to the front rapidly and the showing of clover and alfalfa was very strong, second crop clover measuring four and one-half feet and second crop alfalfa forty inches."

L. C. Kirk and family left the first of the week on an auto trip to Green Bay where they are visiting relatives.

WILL INCREASE
STATE MILITIA

The members of Company L of this city will be interested in the announcement that military companies of the Wisconsin national guard are eventually to have a membership of 100 if the plans of Adjutant General Orlando Holway are carried out. The maximum now permitted is 65.

The last legislature provided that the membership of Wisconsin military companies may be increased by the adjutant general upon approval of the governor. General Holway was recently in Washington in conference with federal military authorities and was advised there that plans now are afoot to increase the peace footing of the federal army. The federal army officers urged General Holway to be prepared to meet the new requirements promptly.

General Holway said that when the increase in membership is authorized in Wisconsin he will plan to enlarge each company but not to full strength at one time. He will authorize first the addition of two squads of eight men each, thus increasing the membership from 65 to 81 per company. Then, later, when the new squads are assimilated, other squads may be added until the 100 maximum is reached.

Nearly all the badger military companies now are recruited to the present maximum of 65 men.

SONS OF VETERANS
ORGANIZE HERECamp With Twenty-Five Charter Members To Be Installed Oct. 5

Rhineland is to have a Sons of Veterans Camp. W. W. Carr, former county clerk, who is one of the local leaders of the movement, states that the organization will be formed here on Tuesday, October 5. Herbert S. Sigelbo, of Madison, divisional organizer, will be in the city in that day and assume charge of the installation of the camp. It is announced that the crack degree team of Antigo will put on the work. This team will stop off here on the way to Ashland to attend the state encampment of Sons of Veterans.

The camp here will be opened with at least twenty-five charter members and possibly more as several are expected to join the list before the date of organization. According to Mr. Carr there are over one hundred men eligible to become members of the order in Rhinelander and vicinity. Every effort will be expended toward the growth of the camp with the expectation of reaching in the neighborhood of the one hundred mark within the coming year.

In former years Rhinelander claimed a Sons of Veterans camp, but through some unexplainable reason interest in the order gradually decreased until the members disbanded. Within the last few years the Sons of Veterans movement has taken new life with the result that all over the state camps have been installed with remarkable rapidity.

The movement seems to be general throughout the country. The plan is to have a camp in every town of any size, or where there is a fair representation of sons of union soldiers.

BOWLING TEAMS

At a meeting held Monday night the bowlers organized a league of six five-men teams. Captains appointed are Buskey, Reardon, Laugessen, Lawrence, Kobornot and Chas. Davis. These men will also act on committee work for the season.

Another meeting of the Captains to be held tonight will put the schedule out for all games to be bowled by the league, which will put the opening game on Monday night Oct. 11th.

4,751 ENROLL AT U.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 28.—A total of 4,751 students have enrolled in the University of Wisconsin for the new year, according to figures given out by the registrar at the close of registration week.

This is a decrease of fifteen students, as compared with the registration of 4,766 students at this time last year. The enrollment, however, is an increase of 435 over the registration of the fall of 1913.

Some 2,815 of last year's students have returned to the university this fall, together with 1,926 new students. This is an increase of sixty-five over the number of old students who returned last fall and a decrease of eighty new students.

POPULAR YOUNG
PASTOR WEDS

The home of Mrs. Charlotte Bastian, 669 North Brown street, was the scene of a quiet wedding on Friday morning at 7:30 o'clock, when Rev. B. G. Clemans of the M. E. church, pronounced the words uniting in bonds matrimonial Miss Helen Bastian and Rev. C. Howe Dinsmore. The couple were attended by Miss Esther Johnson of this city and Rev. D. Alexander of Antigo. Only relatives of the couple, other than the attendants witnessed the ceremony, which was followed by a wedding breakfast.

Mr. and Mrs. Dinsmore took their departure on the 9:15 train for Barron where Rev. Dinsmore has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Baptist church of that city.

The bride is a young woman whose entire life has been spent in this city, where she has a host of friends won by her charming personality. For two years she has held a position in the office of the Rhinelander Creamery and Produce company.

The groom for the past year filled the pastorate of the Baptist church. He is a young man of great promise in his chosen field and won many friends in all walks of life during his brief residence among us.

Mr. and Mrs. Dinsmore were joined on Monday at Ladysmith by his sister and her husband of Pittsburgh, Penn., and will spend their honeymoon on a 100 mile canoe trip down the Flambeau river from Park Falls, returning to Barron about the middle of October where they will go to housekeeping. The well wishes of all are with them.

PLAN SERIES OF PICTURE TALKSWisconsin University To Furnish Lantern Slides To County Schools

In the very recent past there was practically no connection between the school and the home. Neither knew much of the work of the other, nor did either care much about the work of the other. This plan has been found so defective; the results accomplished have been so poor that school and home are now endeavoring to cooperate as much as possible. There are three agencies in this county who have cooperated in bringing about an entirely different attitude in the relations between the home and the school: the County Superintendent, the Agricultural Representative and the County Training school. These agencies working together with the teachers have done everything in their power to bring the parents and the schools closer together. This has been done partly through evening meetings in the school houses. Last year three or four schools invited Agricultural Representative Juday and Principal Dresden to give talks at evening meetings. At these meetings Mr. Juday talked on agricultural topics and Mr. Dresden showed some pictures with the lantern and talked about them. The meetings were such a success that an arrangement has been made with the Extension Division of the University of Wisconsin, whereby this county will receive some lantern slides each week from November to May. These slides will be educational and entertaining as well. Any school desiring an entertainment can have one free by filing a request with Mr. Lowell, Mr. Juday or Mr. Dresden. It is hoped that every school in the county will have at least one of these evening meetings this school year. The three agencies named above are anxious to serve the schools and the school communities. They realize fully the benefit which will come from such service. Are the communities of this county ready to take advantage of the opportunities offered so freely?

DOC POUNDS BASS DRUM
The Rhinelander drum corps has a new member in the person of Dr. J. T. Elliott. Doctor was tried out at the Lac du Flambeau fair last Friday and qualified as an expert with the big stick, although a little rusty owing to his long separation from a bass drum. The genial healer of the sick and sorely afflicted showed class and if Sousa could have heard him he would no doubt have engaged him on the spot. Where did Doc learn to pound the tom-tom? This is the question which is puzzling his friends. There is a vague rumor, however, that many moons ago he was with the Kilites band, although this he denies. Hoot mon, you're all there, nevertheless.

W. J. Herbst of Antigo, proprietor of the Herbst shoe store, was in the city Tuesday conferring with his local manager, R. B. Maxwell.

7 PLEAD GUILTY
IN CIRCUIT COURTArthur Tardiff Gets 3 Years.
In Reformatory For Pandering

In disposing of the criminal cases on this calendar of the September term of Oneida county circuit court, which convened Monday afternoon, the services of a jury were not required, all of the defendants pleading guilty before Judge A. H. Reid.

John Rhode pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny, but no further action will be taken in his case until the next term of court in order to give Rhode an opportunity to make a settlement.

Otto Lee, who pleaded guilty to the charge of incest was sentenced to three years in the Green Bay reformatory. Bernice Lee, his sister, held on a similar charge, entered a plea of guilty, but as yet the court has made no disposition of her case. Owing to her deficient mental condition she will probably not be sent to any state penal institution.

Although Arthur Tardiff, who pleaded guilty to the charge of pandering, was sentenced by Judge Reid to three years in the Green Bay reformatory, it will be necessary to confine him in the Waupun prison for a short time at least as the Green Bay institution is filled to capacity. Tardiff was arrested with Alice Ward, who was sentenced in juvenile court to the Milwaukee industrial school.

Jacob Vanderhaven and Lotus Manbeck, young men, charged with burglarizing Rev. Father Sallie's summer home at one of the nearby lakes, were sentenced to one year in the reformatory upon their pleas of guilty.

Herbert Volheim entered a plea of guilty to burglary and was sentenced to the state prison for three years. He robbed the Panabaker house in the town of Newbold. When arrested last Friday some of the stolen articles were found in his possession. Volheim is said to be an old time convict from Illinois.

Civil Cases
A settlement was made in the suit of C. L. Nichols vs. Charles Asmundsen.

The case of the Gale Manufacturing Company vs. T. C. Wood Hardware company was settled. On motion of plaintiff the action of John Pluto vs. H. L. Garner was dismissed.

In the suit of N. H. Hillis vs. Dennis Paquette and Louis Grenier, involving a logging contract, the jury returned a verdict of $325.20 for the plaintiff.

The suit of Harry R. Goldstone vs. David Jacobson is set for trial Monday.

A verdict of $65 was given by the jury to Martin Wesolowski in his action against Charles S. Crofoot for the unlawful detention of the team of horses in question.

Settlements were made in the cases of the Rhinelander Power company vs. the Rhinelander Paper company; Moses Broulette vs. Zelica L. Broulette; James Donnelly vs. Oneida county.

The case of Charles W. Harper vs. R. J. Russell, Mary E. Russell and J. H. Younkr is for trial at this term.

Two divorce cases, Sadie Ames vs. George Ames Jr., and Albertina Westly vs. Tom Westly, were dismissed.

There are no more jury trials on the calendar and the jurymen were discharged today. Judge Reid will resume the court cases Monday.

PHILLEO SELLS
BIJOU THEATRE

Paul R. Philleo has retired from the proprietorship of the Bijou theatre, having disposed of the business to W. F. Kelley and F. E. Blackhurst of Ironwood, Mich. The new owners have had many years experience in the moving picture game and control theaters in Ironwood, Bessemer and Hurley. They contemplate several important improvements at the Bijou and will endeavor to please patrons at all times, maintaining the same high standard of pictures as shown under Mr. Philleo's management. Programs will change daily and vaudeville will frequently be presented.

Rhineland people welcome Messrs. Kelley and Blackhurst as they will no doubt prove valuable additions to the business life of this city.

LONG CANOE TRIP

Two young men from Rockford, Ill., who are canoeing from Rhinelander to Rock Island, stopped in Stevens Point, Thursday night. The men who are probably twenty years of age, freighted their canoe and supplies to Rhinelander a week ago. They expect it to take them about three weeks to finish their water journey of more than five hundred miles.

The canoe weighs seventy-five pounds and is sixteen feet long. It is one of three hundred canoes owned by the Rock Island Boat club. One hundred yachts are also owned by this club. The members make these trips during their vacations.

The two men who stopped in Stevens Point carry a small alcohol stove and cook their own meals. They broke over this morning and ate breakfast in Stevens Point.

"We wanted to get an early start," one of them said in explaining why they ate breakfast here. "We hope to find as beautiful a part of the river today as we saw Thursday. The last day's journey, we had a most beautiful ride; the scenery was beyond our expectations."—Stevens Point Journal.

SOO EARNINGS SHOW DECREASE

Gross earnings of the Soo line during the fiscal year ended June 30, decreased $1,512,997, as compared with the preceding year. This is shown in the annual report of President Edmund Pennington to the directors and stockholders of the company.

Net earnings of the road decreased $112, and the surplus income decreased $200,462. The decrease in freight revenue of $580,633, is attributed by President Pennington to decreased shipments of lumber, manufactured iron, machinery, building materials and agricultural implements.

The increase in live stock shipments of the preceding year continued in the year just closed, and shipments of iron ore also increased.

The decrease in passenger revenue was $839,133, attributed to business conditions. Note is made of the fact that while the passenger revenue decreased 13 per cent, the decrease in miles run by passenger trains was but 5 1/2 per cent. Maintenance expense decreased $904,683, transportation expense $466,073.

New line acquired by the company during the year totalled 105.5 miles.

"The northwestern states have an excellent grain crop this year," President Pennington's statement concludes. "This should produce considerable increase in tonnage and if general business conditions improve the results for the current fiscal year should show much improvement. The property is in condition economically to handle a largely increased business."

1000 HEAR WELSH CHORUS

The royal Gwent Welsh Singers, whose concert on Monday evening at the First M. E. Church was given under the auspices of Racine Council, United Commercial Travelers, gave one of the best musicals which has been held in this city in some time, emphasizing the beauty of Welsh music.

That the ability of the chorus was well known to Racine people was evidenced by the fact that over 1000 persons crowded the auditorium to listen to this evening of music. Every number was followed by rounds of enthusiastic applause, while especially popular was the number of J. Preston Smith who was tendered an ovation.—Racine, (Wis.) Daily Call, Tuesday, Sept. 7.

FARMING

BETTER FARMING - BETTER BUSINESS - BETTER LIVING

State Fair Better Than Ever
The 1915 Wisconsin state fair was superior to any of its predecessors. Never before was the greatness of the state from the agricultural and livestock standpoints placed before the world quite so emphatically as this year.

It has often been said that any state can have enough good live stock for show purposes, but the live stock show of the 1915 Wisconsin state fair could have been duplicated a thousand times last week and still have left much prize taking stock out of consideration. What was shown was but samples of the hundreds of thousands in the herds of Wisconsin farms.

But the ability to produce high grade grains and grasses cannot be transported from one portion of the country to another—soil and climate are the possession of the various areas, and they are there to stay. Those who wish to produce grains and grasses in profusion and quality must locate where conditions permit it. It is in these departments of agricultural activity that Wisconsin is supreme—and it is in these features of the exposition that the Wisconsin state fair cannot be paralleled anywhere in America.

The fair determined the fact that Wisconsin is a universally good state. More than a score of widely scattered counties were there with exhibits, and it was a severe task for the judges to decide which county should have the blue ribbon. Nor were other counties absent because they could not have been close competitors. The fact that there is not a county in the state that could not have made an excellent exhibit.

Two-thirds of the county exhibits were from the central and northern counties, and it is but fair to say that they outclassed the exhibits from the southern counties in those things most essential to the great success of the farmer and dairyman. Marathon county, which took the blue ribbon, was closely pressed by other counties in the upper country as well as by several in the southern portion of the state, but in the clovers and grasses—the great ground work of Wisconsin agricultural wealth production—there is no question that the upper counties were in the lead.

And this lead in the production of the clovers and grasses, in which we may include alfalfa, is the greatest advantage that Wisconsin possesses over most other states, and the great secret of our dairy supremacy. These crops constitute probably three-fourths of the fundamental necessities of the animal industry. We have placed too much stress upon corn production. Valuable as that crop is, there is no question that it can be replaced almost entirely, as far as the production of stock for the market and dairy products are concerned, by clover, alfalfa and the grasses which nothing can replace. But in addition to our great superiority in the production of these fundamentals, we average with the best corn states of the country.

Many who have attended the great state fairs of the country for many years stated unreservedly that the county exhibits at the Wisconsin state fair were far ahead of anything they had ever seen anywhere or at any time. The most closely studied the stronger they appeared, the essential feature being that they comprised almost entirely the essential products—those crops that yield the great returns from the farms.

Notwithstanding the effect of the unseasonable frosts, which hurt other states more than Wisconsin, Wisconsin farmers will have plenty of feed for the winter. This is the opinion of one of the best informed farmers of the state, and is generally agreed to.

The hay crop was a very large one, and the pastures are so good that a second crop of hay will be harvested from meadows that ordinarily are used for fall pastures. This will add very materially to the stock of fall and winter feedstuffs.

Then, the small grain crop was so large that a considerable portion of them can be fed to stock and still leave fully an ordinary crop to sell. Oats, barley and rye—the great small grain crops of Wisconsin, are well suited for feeding purposes.

There is nothing to complain of in Wisconsin—although it is clear that if we had a full corn crop all over the state the year would have been a still better one. As it is prosperity is with us as usual.

Dairying Increases

Dairying conditions in northern Wisconsin have been unusually satisfactory this year. The official figures of the American Dairy Association, which include reports from all the large creameries in northern Wisconsin, show that dairy interests have been showing monthly increases over 1914 of from 36 per cent to 39 per cent since early last spring. While a part of the butter gain has been due to especially favorable conditions to the industry, it is mainly due to the interest in dairying operations and to the larger number of farmers engaged in it. The American Dairy Association figures show that all of northwestern Wisconsin, especially the territory tributary to Duluth, have shown large increases in dairying.—Wisconsin Farmer.

Drag The Roads

When the smiles of spring appear, Drag the roads; When the summer time is here, Drag the roads; When the corn is in the ear, In the winter cold and drear, Every season of the year, Drag the roads. When you're nothing else to do, Drag the roads; If but for an hour or two, Drag the roads; It will keep them good as new; With a purpose firm and true. Fall in line; it's up to you— Drag the roads.

Margaret Charrey, Mabel White spent the week end at Rhinelander.

Mr. Skibba of Antigo was a caller Monday.

WHEN a fellow wants tobacco satisfaction and finds how he can get it, it's natural for him to put the other fellows next to the Real Tobacco Chew, because a little chew satisfies.

Tobacco satisfaction is what he is looking for—the smaller the chew it takes, the better it suits him.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR W-B CUT CHEWING TOBACCO. IT IS THE NEW REAL TOBACCO CHEW—CUT LONG SHRED.

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.

ROAD SIGNS ON COUNTY HIGHWAYS

County Boards Can Now Enforce the Provisions Of New State Law

At the annual meeting of the county board the new law which empowers county boards to erect road signs by using money of the highway and bridge fund may come up for consideration. The old law provided that this should be done by the town boards, but very little attention was paid to the law and complaints made by motorists and others have been ignored.

There is a movement now on foot to start a state-wide campaign for signs on all highways, so that automobilists and motorcyclists will not be compelled to lose time hunting for information to guide them to their destinations.

Under the new system all county roads which have been laid with concrete are to become part of the general state highway plan, and the state is to pay one-third of the cost of keeping these roads in first-class condition. The counties through which the roads pass must bear the remaining two-thirds.

Previous to this new regulation persons who complained because there were no road signs at intersections obtained little or no satisfaction, because county officials had no legal right to spend any money for this purpose.

The new law giving county boards the power to spend money for guide signs became effective Aug. 10th and considerable agitation in favor of some immediate action is being made.

The law reads: "The county board of any county may cause suitable and appropriate guide boards to be erected on and along a system of prospective state highways in such county. Such guide boards shall be erected in general accordance with the provisions of Section 1227 of the statutes, and the cost of the erection of such guide boards and of their suitable repair may be paid out of the county road and bridge fund, or other fund of the county, as may be determined by such county board."

"Any county board may, by resolution, provide that any section corner or quarter section corner lying within the limits of any highway heretofore or hereafter constructed in whole or in part with county funds may be replaced with a suitable marker with proper reference points, if deemed advisable; and the expense of survey necessary to so replace such markers and their erection and maintenance may be paid out of the county road and bridge fund or any other county fund as may be determined by such county board."

SUPERINTENDENTS TO MEET
State Supt. C. P. Cary has chosen Ashland as one of the five centers in the state for holding conferences with county superintendents and supervisory teachers. On October 4th and 5th in the city of Ashland, the county superintendents and supervisory teachers of Northern Wisconsin will meet with members of the state department of education and talk over plans for the work of the supervisory teachers. A new state law requires each county to have at least one supervisory teacher. The main purpose of this conference is to get the supervisory teachers started right.

Supt. Cary has also called the training school teachers together at Ashland for a conference on the above dates.—Ashland Press.

MUST MARK ALL LIQUID MEASURES

Instructions relating to the enforcement of various amendments to the weights and measures law which becomes effective Oct. 1, 1915, have been received by City Sealer H. J. Danfield.

One of the amendments requires that the capacity of liquid measures shall be legibly and permanently indicated on the side of each measure. This, the law directs, shall be in combination with the word "liquid" or the abbreviation "liq." in the case of measures on which the word "pint" or "quart" occurs.

The weight of tin used in liquid measures is also prescribed in the state sealer's interpretation of the law. This is in order to insure sufficient strength to make the measures withstand ordinary usage without becoming easily bent, indented or damaged.

Family scales should comply with the specifications and tolerances of the type of scale to which they belong, such as spring, counter, platform, etc. All family scales, offered for sale, that are not in compliance with such specifications and tolerances, shall be condemned.

Cloth tapes may be offered for sale by dealers when the same are plainly and conspicuously marked with the inscription: "Not legal in trade." Cloth tapes must not be used commercially.

HOW TO GIVE GOOD ADVICE

The best way to give good advice is to set a good example. When others see how quickly you get over your cold by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they are likely to follow your example. This remedy has been in use for many years and enjoys an excellent reputation. Obtainable everywhere.

Minding Your Own Business

"It ain't none of my business and I ain't going to mix up in it," said a wealthy farmer in an eastern state when asked to use his influence for a certain sanitary measure. "I keep my own farm clean and up-to-date and it ain't none of my concern if my neighbor don't do the same. There ain't no typhoid around here; ain't never been none, and ain't no chance of ever being. If folks, in the city get it, I guess its up to you city chaps to get rid of it. I've got my hands full tending to my own affairs without poking my nose into what don't concern me. If everybody else does the same, I guess there, won't be no need for fool laws."

Over a year later a young man from the city applied to this farmer for work. He was hired, one of his duties being to help with the milking. Shortly afterward, the farmer's wife and daughter were taken sick with typhoid. Other cases of typhoid were traced to the farm's milk supply and investigation revealed the fact that it was infected. The farmhand had brought the germs with him from the city although he had recovered from the disease some weeks before. He had not been taught the necessity of cleanliness in his personal habits or perhaps he, like the farmer, argued that it was up to the other chap to look out for himself. At any rate, city and country had gone hand in hand in spreading the disease just as they must go hand in hand if typhoid and other needless, communicable diseases are to be banished from the face of the earth where they cause the major part of the human family's want and misery.

Many a typhoid epidemic is due to imported infection and many a case is brought home from the summer vacation spent without investigation of the purity of the food and water supply. In Wisconsin, September marks the beginning of the real danger period from typhoid the number of cases and deaths increasing until they reached their maximum in November. This has been the experience of past years.

The importance of organized, systematic sanitary effort in conquering typhoid has been demonstrated in a striking manner in the United States army. Our own state furnishes a recent illustration which is perhaps even more significant because it deals with every day conditions here at home. In 1905 there were 10 deaths from typhoid in Kenosha, each of the next three years recovered 9 deaths, 1912 had 6, and 1913 had 11. In 1914 there was but one death from typhoid. Kenosha has employed a full time health officer and the city had been thoroughly aroused to the need and value of co-operation with the health department. Its people are now joining hands, mingling each others' business and their own. The city's death rate from all causes has been cut in half in the last two years.

FORTY YEARS A PRIEST

At Superior on October 7th, a celebration will be held to commemorate the fortieth anniversary of the Rt. Rev. Bishop J. M. Koudelka's ordination to the priesthood.

A large number of members of St. Michael's parish at Cleveland, Ohio, of which Bishop Koudelka was formerly pastor, have made arrangements for an excursion from that city to Superior to participate. Priests from Chicago, Milwaukee and other places where Bishop Koudelka has been located, will also be at Superior for the occasion.

It is not the bishop's wish that there should be a public celebration, but the announcement that his former parishioners at Cleveland were coming in such large numbers, and the insistence of his many friends in Superior, induced him to consent to a public observance, says a Superior dispatch.

THE NEW NORTH.

SEPTEMBER 30, 1915

Entered at the Postoffice at Rhinelander, Wis., as Second Class Mail Matter

Many a man who reads his neighbor's paper stopped his own subscription because he claimed "there is nothing in the old sheet anyway."

Another winter approaches with the war in Europe raging fiercer than ever. The bitter cold will add more names to the list of dead and suffering than powder and shell.

The Indian fair at Lac du Flambeau demonstrated the fact that Poor Lo is far away from being the indolent, shiftless individual which tradition has led us to believe, but instead is a good worker and willing to do all he can to further his advancement and that of his children.

That the excursion to the Lac du Flambeau fair Friday will result in establishing a firmer friendship and better business relations between the Indians and people of this city there is no doubt. The Indians are good traders and should be given every encouragement to patronize Rhinelander merchants.

Again Henry Ford shows the right spirit. He says: "If banks having money belonging to the Ford Motor Company or me personally, subscribe to the allied loan, I will draw every penny from them. If I had my way, I would tie a tin can on the allied commissioners, and send them back to where they came from."

If you doubt that a large number of boys and girls are running the streets nights with no family supervision, go to some gathering place and see for yourself. It is no wonder that girls and boys go to destruction when they are allowed to tramp the streets nights, gather in bunches, without supervision, and act as hoodlums.

The city is most fortunate in the Sutton bondsmen; these men have been most anxious to have the deficiencies checked, so that the people would know the actual amount of all the losses. Under such conditions we have a right to believe that they are just as anxious to pay back every dollar stolen. Next Tuesday night at the regular monthly council meeting, we shall probably know conditions for the period covered by personal bonds, and then we will be fully aware whether Sutton stole his entire lifetime in the city office or during the last fifteen years.

In all the discussion of the Sutton shortage, nothing has been said about interest on the large embezzlements. All the time Mr. Sutton was defrauding the city, the city was paying large amounts of interest. Why should the city not receive then interest in return? If with embezzlements the interest can be collected, it ought to be. It is certain the city needs its own money to reduce its debts and pay its heavy expenses. The city should collect the stolen money and interest for all these years if it is lawful.

SHOULD COMPLETE THE ROAD

We heartily approve of the resolution introduced in the last county board proceedings, giving to Gagen that part of Three Lakes which has failed to secure any passable highway connecting Three Lakes and Gagen. No town in this county has done more to assist the traveling public by giving good highways than Gagen, and this town should not be hemmed in by a short distance above their northern boundaries. If it demands division of towns or taking land in one town and giving it to another town to get good roads through our county, we stand ready to support the cause. If any chairman would make the trip from Gagen to Three Lakes, he would readily see that some step should be taken to complete that awful stretch of road which prevents people from going north.

FREE TEXT BOOKS

We are glad to hear some of the members of the city school board discussing favorably the policy of furnishing the High school text books as well as the grades. Can anyone give us a good reason why Tom Jones should pay for Bill Smith's children's books in a lower grade and then be compelled to pay for his own children's books in the High school? We are most heartily in favor of consistency. If the children in the grades should have free text books so should those in the High school. It is simple folly to make the excuse that High school children wish to retain their books. If you doubt this statement, visit the High school the first few days of the year and you will see the children selling their second hand books and spending the money foolishly, in many cases. Furnish text books to all if any and we believe in free text books. If children in the High school wish to retain their books, they should be sold to them at a small consideration when the study is completed.

PILING UP WAR DEBT

The average man who wonders how the war can be conducted for any length of time at a cost estimated at $35,000,000 per day will get some idea of one easy method of raising money which does not mean subtraction from the surplus capital of the country. France alone has borrowed $1,300,000,000 from the Bank of France which has in turn issued a similar amount of notes.

Four of the big belligerent countries have issued more than $3,000,000,000 additional notes in the first year of the war. This is a sign of more than 100 per cent and does not include other paper money issues outside of bank notes. This gives an inkling of the trying time which Europe will have to meet in the slow, gradual process of perhaps several years which will be required to bring these notes back to gold redemption on demand. The United States experienced some of the difficulties of resuming specie payments in the late seventies after obstacles and harassments covering many years.

The war is being financed to some extent by vast amounts of gradually depreciating currency. This helps to buy war goods now, but it piles up a mountain of trouble for the future when the inflation must gradually be driven out of the currency again. It is just as impossible "to have your cake and eat it" in war as in peace.—Milwaukee Journal.

COMMENTS ON THE WAR

"This country is going to smash." Don't believe it. Its said only for the benefit of Morgan & Co. If it comes to the worst we can go to Farmer Jones and work for a bushel of wheat, a pound of butter and a side of pork.—Wausau Pilot.

If Dr. Osler's theory on chloroform at sixty is worth anything, Germany has a bunch of dead ones leading her forces. There is not a general in the German army, save those of royal blood, who is not over sixty years of age and several are over seventy. Pretty lively bunch for a lot of dead ones, don't you think?—Ashland Press.

When the war ends there will be a sudden cessation of demand for war supplies, and naturally depression in the industries engaged in that line of production, but this fact has not been overlooked. In this country the added appliances put in use are operated by the same motive power and skilled labor used in peace, and the end of the war demands will not mean a closing of the industries. It will mean some changes of equipment, but in many particulars not important changes. The restoration of Europe will require large supplies from America, and industry will proceed in satisfactory volume.—Superior Telegram.

The present war gives abundant proof that some people are very willing to let other people die for them. For instance the emperors, kings and kaisers, with but rare exceptions, keep a safe distance from the firing line. If they could only be sent in to do fighting and let the common folks have a rest, how quickly the war would end.—Hurley Miner.

Is President Wilson going to allow Judas Iscariot Morgan and his frenzied cohorts to betray the honor of the nation for thirty pieces of silver? Have we become so venal, so mercenary, that the dollar is exalted and honor debased? Are we nationally to supplant the golden rule by the rule of gold? We pretend to be a peace-loving nation—and peace at any price has off been our slogan. Are we now to be called a dollar-loving nation—dollars, only dollars, no matter what the price? The day that the money changers of Wall street consume the war loan, that day our neutrality will receive its obsequies and our cries of peace, peace become a Pharisaical mockery.—The State.

OUR NEARNESS TO MARKET

Wisconsin's great advantage in being near the markets is emphasized again this year. In the west and in Canada they have extra large harvests of grains, but once more they are up against the problem of marketing. They have a heavy freight penalty at best, and in addition to this penalty they have the disappointment of seeing the price of grain go down just as they were at the point of marketing their crop. In Canada the railroad transportation is so inadequate that at best there will be great delay and difficulty in getting the crops to market. The situation is not materially better than a few years ago when grain was hauled twenty to fifty miles and piled up at the stations where much of it remained until spring, and was then rushed into Minneapolis and Duluth, for what it would bring in an overloaded market.

In Wisconsin it is different. In the busiest seasons there is no difficulty in getting grains and all other farm produce to the market. Under Wisconsin conditions there is no need to rush crops to market. Advantage can be taken of the markets. We can produce the largest crops and secure the largest returns—and do this year after year. It is not surprising that people who went to the far west and to Canada are coming or hoping to come to Wisconsin.—W. V. A. Bulletin.

LYCEUM ATTRACTIONS

For the Season of 1915-16 Are Announced.

MUSIC AND LECTURES.

Array of Talent Which is Scheduled to Appear Here at Intervals Throughout the Winter.

An annual Lyceum, entertainment course is now regarded as practically indispensable in nearly 15,000 American communities, and the number is increasing with each year.

Some one has truly said that a Lyceum attraction, even though it failed to raise a higher standard in the community, at least never lowered an existing standard or in any way left a deleterious effect. This cannot be said of many other kinds of amusement and entertainment.

What the winter's entertainments and lectures are to be in each community is usually looked for at this time of the year. The course here this year will be made up of the following attractions:

THE ALL BROTHERS QUARTET.

The All Brothers Quartet is composed of four brothers, Albert B. Joseph A., Clyde J. and Glen A. Caskey. Not only are they full brothers, but they have unusual gift as musicians, and they have played and sung together about as long as they can remember.

They have shown remarkable ability in their voice work, and their instrumentation is most unusual.

They form an instrumental quartet with the first and second cornet, the saxophone and the trombone.

All four play the chimes. Their program includes solos on the violin and cornet, with the chimes accompaniment; violin and saxophone duet, with the chimes accompaniment, and cornet and saxophone duet, with the chimes accompaniment; also the male quartet with chimes accompaniment.

The quartet and chimes accompaniment sounds like a choir of twelve voices with the pipe organ. The piano is not used in any part of their program.

COLBY, CARTOONIST.

Mr. Colby, the cartoonist, in appearance is almost the living image of the immortal Bill Nye. As he talks to his audience he transfers a variety of conceptions from his imaginative brain to the concrete form of crayon pictures. Some of his pictures are amusing; some, such as his landscape scenes, are as beautiful as paintings. Many corridors and classrooms in public school buildings in Chicago are ornamented with large crayon pictures that are souvenirs of George E. Colby's popular entertainment "New Ideas in Crayon."

The Chicago Tribune in speaking of Colby says that he is remarkable for combining in his treatment strength, sentiment, delicacy and a nameless charm. The Chicago News says, "Mr. Colby's talks are full of surprises, and one marvels at the sudden appearance of pictures both beautiful and comic as they come out of a mass of color and lines."

The most effective transformation that is attempted by Mr. Colby is that embodying the arousing of Mount Vesuvius from slumber to rage. He draws in colors of crayon illustrations of the famous mountain as viewed across the

TWO MEN HURT IN EXPLOSION

In an explosion which occurred in the blacksmithing department of the Rhinelander Paper company's mill early Saturday afternoon, Victor Boncher, blacksmith, who resides at 608 Mason street, was seriously injured and may lose the sight of one eye, and Harry McIntyre, assistant, received minor bruises.

Boncher and McIntyre were repairing a piston head when the accident occurred. When coming in contact with heat the head exploded and bits of metal struck Boncher on the face and arms. McIntyre was also struck by the flying metal but his hurts are not serious. Boncher's eyes were injured and it is understood he also sustained a broken wrist. He was removed at once to St. Mary's hospital where he is reported to be resting as easily as can be expected. It is not known what the outcome of his injuries will be at this time.

Mr. Boncher is married and has a family.

To Get Rid of the Poisonous Gases and Fermenting Food.

A good long fast will do this sometimes. A trip to the mountains. Tramping. Roughing it. Yes, very good remedies. But are you going to avail yourself of either one of these remedies? No! Then the next best thing is to try a bottle of Peruna. Take it according to directions. You will have a natural appetite. All gas and fermentation in the stomach will disappear.

Read what Mrs. Emma Bell, Box 204, Fort Pierce, Florida, says: "I was taken suddenly with swelling of the stomach and bowels, and great distress. Very painful. Three doctors gave me no relief. Could not eat anything. Everything soured. I was starving to death. I began taking Peruna and was soon strong enough to do work. After taking five bottles I can truthfully say I am well. I gained twenty pounds."

WILL READJUST FREIGHT RATES

Mass Meeting To Consider Vital Proposition Called For Next Thursday

At the city hall next Thursday night will be held a mass meeting of business men and citizens to consider the proposition of joining with other Wisconsin Valley cities for the purpose of securing a readjustment of railroad freight rates. The Central Wisconsin Traffic bureau, working with the various cities represented, is behind this movement which was inaugurated in Wausau a few days ago. The movement is one of vital interest to all shippers and the meeting here should be largely attended.

The Wausau Pilot says: The past week there was instituted in Wausau a movement which is destined to have far reaching benefits for every business man in the valley. The cities of the Wisconsin river have joined forces to compel a readjustment of freight rates. The business men of the Fox river valley and of the Chippewa valley have already joined in a similar movement and have their brief nearly in readiness to bring before the State Railway commission.

Last Monday evening the Merchants and Manufacturers' association of this city met and started the ball rolling and was instrumental in the meeting held at the city hall Thursday evening in which the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, the Wausau Advancement association and the Central Wisconsin Traffic bureau participated. This meeting was attended by the directors of these organizations and representatives from Rhineland, Merrill, Stevens Point, and Grand Rapids were also present. Mass meetings are being held in the above cities and representatives sent from each.

There was much enthusiasm shown at this meeting and the following motion was passed, introduced by G. D. Jones:

"It is the sense of this meeting that it is advisable to unite with other organizations of this state that are seeking to obtain a readjustment of freight rates for interior points in Wisconsin."

The main question at this meeting was "how much will it cost to make this fight?" It was ascertained, after considerable discussion, that the joints of this machine, which was about to be started, would have to be lubricated with about $1,000 and this would have to be raised by the various cities which were to be benefited. The matter of funds, however, cut very little with a determined lot of men, whose only purpose was to receive fair treatment from the railroads.

It was brought out at the Thursday evening meeting that Wausau and other valley cities are paying $27.00 a car more for freight than they should. This explains the whole thing and a determined fight should be made, and there will be to secure rates which are to be fair and just as compared with other localities. It is of very vital interest to the cities in the valley to secure lower rates. It will mean the building of their cities. Those who were present from other cities were: L. Seeger and C. M. Copp, of Stevens Point; W. A. Ringle, of Merrill; G. D. Fritzing and J. E. Bryan, of Grand Rapids; S. E. Alvord, of Rhineland.

Mrs. William Peters who spent a number of days at the P. O. Means home, went to Wausau Sunday and from there will return to her home in Trinidad, Col.
